CLEO's Aiming to Win in 2010! (& beyond!)

As we near the mid-point of 2010, the Council on Legal Education Opportunity (CLEO) is just getting to our busiest time of the year. Much like we've done for the past several summers, our staff is diligently preparing to host two Six-Week Summer Institutes (Florida International University & University of Missouri-Columbia), three Sophomore Summer Institutes (Northern Illinois University, University of North Carolina-Chapel Hill and Thomas M. Cooley) and two Attitude Is Essential (AIE) and Achieving Success in the Application Process (ASAP) seminars (Atlanta & Los Angeles – mid- to late-July).

These programs enable a total of nearly 700 diverse, low-income or otherwise disadvantaged entering law and pre-law students to benefit from expert tutelage in a variety of topics related to both law school and the legal profession. And as we continue our unprecedented growth to a full-service, year-round operation with 15 programs and services addressing the diversity pipeline at the high school, collegiate and law school levels, the support we count on from friends like you has never been more essential to our long-term viability. To continue designing and facilitating programs that meet the needs of an increasingly diverse and growing population of students, we need to know that we can depend on you!

Giving is often measured in terms of time and/or money. And while both are sincerely valued and appreciated, our friends occasionally prefer to send a monetary donation in light of their busy schedules. This year, for the first time, you can make a contribution to CLEO and let us know what category you would like for your tax-deductible gift to go toward. Whether it's our recently established Legacy Justice Endowment fund, student scholarship/hardship stipend fund, program and service-related endeavors or elsewhere, you check it and we'll appropriate your donation accordingly. We thank you in advance for your continued support and look forward to working together to help change the face of the profession!
